4. MATTERS ARISING

(a) Gravestone Budget

£500 from the Gravestone Budget would be going to Great Yarmouth Preservation Trust which the PCC would be paying back to the Preservation Trust. It was reported that this project was on the short list for an English Heritage Angel Award.

(b) Places and Faces

A discussion ensued around asking the Places and Faces magazine to attend one of the Great Yarmouth Minster Preservation Trust events to take photos.

(c) Completion of Tower Works

It was suggested that the Places and Faces magazine could attend for the completion of the tower works. A discussion then ensued around whether the completion of the tower works should be celebrated at the Civic Service or if this should be a separate service, and it was agreed that this should be a separate service where the bells could be rung. It was suggested that this should be a separate item in the future with an update being received from the PCC.

(d) Patronage

The Committee agreed that they would like to ask the new High Steward, Henry Cator, once he had officially been given the title to become the President of the Trust.

(e) Brandon Lewis' Response

The Chairman reported that he had emailed Brandon Lewis' Assistant ten days ago and still had heard nothing back but would continue with this.

(f) Lady Trustees

Hugh Sturzaker reported that he had spoken to the Ladies Guild at the Lifeboat but they had stated they were too busy with their lifeboat fundraising to join the Great Yarmouth Minster Preservation Trust. It was suggested that they could ask the Inner Wheel or Soroptimists if any of them would like to join. It was also suggested that an advert be placed in the local press asking for Lady Trustees.

(g) Change of Constitution

Michael Boon reported that he had spoken to the solicitor and it was hoped that the amended wording would be presented at the next meeting.

(h) Railings

To date no progress had been made on the railings. It was reported that if these were not repaired in the near future there was a risk of losing the railings completely. The Chairman also stated that weed killing by GYB Services was not going up to the church wall boundary. It was suggested that a letter be sent from the Trust to the Leader of the Council to ask about the railing issue. It was pointed out that they were still waiting for a faculty to come through for the repair to the railings. A Member of the Committee suggested contacting DIY SOS asking if this could be a suitable project.

5. OTHER MATTERS ARISING

The Chairman spoke of the heating stating that the PCC had appointed a Committee to look at the heating and would be applying for a major grant. They had also looked at stackable chairs for large services and that south and north face repairs would be required.
